

Internet Lodge – October Meeting 8th – 9th October 2010

Wells, Somerset, BA5 2UE

Wells is the smallest city in England and the only one in Somerset. It is a busy market town nestling at the foot of the Mendip Hills and on the Saturday we are there, there will be an especially large street market in Market Square.

All our activities are in the City Centre and the different locations are all within about 300 yards from the town's centre piece – the Cathedral.

Our October Regular Meeting is taking place in an upper room at the Cathedral, which is a marvel of the operative mason.

During the weekend the Cathedral is running an open day for youngsters called be a Chorister for a day. For those that love music this will be an entertaining event. They are hosting the Simon Wellington Art Exhibition in the Chapter House.

There will also be Choral Evensong at 4:15pm on Saturday. The choir is based on the Cathedral school and the music will be wonderful and the ritual will be unchanged since the Tudor days when Shakespeare was a lad, and the quality of the English language was at its peak. An experience, no matter what your persuasion.

Friday Night

Supper & live entertainment at the Kings Head – a 14th Century Public House on the High Street in Wells, Somerset.

Includes a hot buffet supper with a variety of local dishes, a local entertainer plus an evening of pub games including darts, pool, dominoes, cribbage, and probably a pub quiz. Starts at 7:00pm - food will be available from 8:00pm until 9:00pm, and the evening finishes late with a disco in a separate room for the energetic.
